

PostBidShip Among the Hot 2020 FreightTech 100

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz., October 22, 2019 - PostBidShip has been nominated among the best companies in the freight and logistics field. FreightWaves has nominated PostBidShip to be one of the FreightTech 100 award winners among more than 1,200 nominations and companies like Amazon, FedEx, Tesla, and Uber Freight.

FreightWaves, the industry-leading provider of 24/7 news, data and analytics for the global freight and logistics markets, announced the winners of the 2020 FreightTech 100 Awards. The top 100 companies include, besides PostBidShip, also Amazon, Cathay Pacific, Daimler AG, Delta Air Lines, DHL, FedEx, J.B. Hunt Transport, Maersk, Navistar, Phillips, Ryder, Schneider, Toyota, Tessa, Uber Freight, and UPS.

“PostBidShip is proving that our platform brings transformational functionality to the logistics industry, of which freight technologies are becoming central to reshaping operations. This is a strong indication of the disruptive nature of our platform that provides the transportation industry with a solution that is unlike any other in the market today. We are humbled and honored for this recognition while sharing the stage with world-renown logistics companies”, expressed Sam Levin, CEO of PostBidShip.

The FreightTech 100 highlights the most innovative and disruptive companies across the freight industry, featuring both cutting-edge upstarts and top-notch traditional powers. This year’s list includes 70 returning companies from last year’s awards and 30 first-timers.

“This is not a ‘pay to play’ competition. The companies that make it into the FreightTech 100 do so because they are changing the freight industry in new and dynamic ways,” FreightWaves CEO Craig Fuller said. “We want to recognize the most innovative and disruptive companies out there.”

This year’s FreightTech 100 list is the result of over 1,200 nominations. The FreightWaves voting committee was made up of an impressive peer group of industry leaders, investors, and academics who have agreed to participate as voters for the FreightTech 25 awards. Among them were representatives of Uber, FedEx, Daimler, BNSF Logistics, Maersk, and others. See the full voter list here. The FreightTech 25 companies will be announced at FreightWaves LIVE in Chicago 12-13 November. Last year’s top ten companies included Amazon, Tesla, J.B. Hunt, Uber Freight and FedEx. Click here to see the full selection of 2020 FreightTech 100 companies.

News & image source: FreightWaves

About PostBidShip

PostBidShip is a neutral digital freight platform that replaces outdated workflows with quick, cost-effective and efficient matching of loads to transportation capacity in real-time, using near-time data analytics, market indices modelling and real-time digital collaboration, benefiting both parties through an optimal mix of cost, performance, convenience and asset utilization. For more information, visit postbidship.com.

###

PostBidShip.com

@ 2020 PostBidShip, Inc.

sales@postbidship.com